

STROKING

If something gets a positive electric charge, then it follows that something else

- a) becomes equally positively charged
- b) becomes equally negatively charged
- c) becomes negatively charged, but not necessarily equally negatively charged
- d) becomes magnetized

